2014 OCUL Outstanding Contribution Award

The Ontario Council of University Libraries is proud to announce Tony Horava, University of Ottawa, as the recipient of this year's OCUL Outstanding Contribution Award. This award will be presented to Tony Horava for his work in support of OCUL's mission and vision.

Tony Horava is recognized for his active involvement, research, and instruction around various OCUL initiatives since 2002. In addition to his important work on projects such as the patron-driven acquisition and ebooks platforms, OCUL would like to recognize the significant contributions Tony has made as one of the longest serving and most experienced members of CRKN's Content Strategy Committee.

The OCUL Outstanding Contribution Award was established by the OCUL Directors in May 2008 to recognize the outstanding contribution of an individual or team of individuals within the OCUL consortium. This year the Award recognizes a remarkable achievement that has helped embody the values, which OCUL places on networking, collaboration and community.

Our congratulations and thanks to Tony Horava,
